Policy Statement

The life-style the Carolina University Faculty in their community is important to the overall reputation of the University.

Policy Procedures

It involves paying bills on time, treating sales people and service people with the utmost consideration and respect, and being certain that all business commitments and relationships be maintained in a Christ-like manner and on biblical principles.

It is also important to this University and our community as well as to our country that our Carolina University family exercise its constitutional rights to vote on the local, state, and national levels.
